

Anro – our story

At Anro we believe in only offering you the safest and healthiest options for your home and workplace. The place where you spend many hours should be a place where you feel safe, be able to relax and enjoy the time with loved ones.

After living in Europe and working in the flooring industry for many years Angela and Robert returned to Melbourne and established Anro Floorcare. Fuelled by their passion of using safe and natural finishes coupled with their knowledge of the hazards associated with synthetic coating systems Anro is committed to and specialises in exclusively using the Livos range of products.

Unknowingly many apply coatings that can have a huge detrimental effect on one's health. Livos Oils create a safer and healthier environment without compromising on quality or durability leaving a beautiful, pleasantly smelling natural finish.

Our extensive experience in the field of natural coatings overseas has ensured Anro is now a leading specialist in this field within Australia.

At Anro we are dedicated to educating people by offering safer, healthier, chemically free options and minimising our clients exposure to toxins found in synthetic coatings.
